MA LINGUISTICS SYLLABUS
(Revised in May 2025 as per NEP 2020 Guidelines)

SEMESTER IV

Mandatory Papers -

- LNG 651 Research Project (6)
- LNG 652 Discourse Studies (4)
- LNG 653 Language Teaching (4)
- LNG 654 Language, Culture and Cognition (4)

Elective Papers -

- LNG 659 Contact Linguistics (4)
- LNG 660 Historical Linguistics (4)
- LNG 661 Stylistics (2)
- LNG 662 Language Documentation (4)

LNG 652: DISCOURSE STUDIES

Credits: 4

Hours: 60

Course Objectives:

1. This course aims to give an introduction to spoken and written discourse.
2. To provide an overview of the main, contemporary currents in the field of discourse analysis.

Learning Outcomes: After successfully completing this course the students

1. understand the ways in which language is used and meanings generated and organised in written and spoken texts, taking into account the social contexts of production and processing
2. learn to apply approaches in discourse studies in the analysis of various discourse types.

Abbreviations- L- Lecture, S- Seminar, GD- Group Discussion, T- Test, A- Assignment, P- Practical, SP- Student Participation

Course Outline:

Unit 1 Introduction (4 hrs. L + 4 hrs. P + 2 hrs. A: Total 10 hrs)

Perspectives on discourse analysis; contemporary methods and traditions of discourse analysis; resources for analysing discourse.

Unit 2 Interactive pragmatics (4 hrs. L + 4 hrs. P + 2 hrs. A: Total 10 hrs)

Speech act theory, politeness theory, conversational implicature, relevance theory.

Unit 3 Conversational analysis (2 hrs. L + 6 hrs. P + 2 hrs. SP: Total 10 hrs)

Ethnomethodology, conversation, turn-taking (TRP), mechanisms of turn-taking, adjacency pairs, sequences (pre-sequence), preference organisation, openings and closings, topic management and topic shift, conversational repairs, limitations of CA.

Unit 4 Critical discourse analysis (2 hrs. L + 6 hrs. P + 2 hrs A: Total 10 hrs)

Early analyses of classroom discourse, Sinclair and Coulthard's 'exchange structure': act, move (IRF), transaction, lesson, limitations of IRF model; construction of ideology in discourse – symbolic power and social discrimination;

Unit 5 Narrative analysis (2 hrs. L + 6 hrs. P + 2 hrs. SP: Total 10 hrs)

Properties of narratives, taxonomy of participants in narratives, narrative as enactment of identities and relations, gender differences in narrative style.

Unit 6 Interactional sociolinguistics (2 hrs. L + 6 hrs. P + 2 hrs. A: Total 10 hrs)

Conversational cues, socio-cultural knowledge in conversational inference, mechanisms of miscommunication, cross-cultural perspectives on speech events.

Practical work:Class-work and home assignments: analyzing texts and conversations using various approaches in discourse analysis.

Credits: 4

Hours: 60

Course Objectives:

To offer the students a foundation in approaches and techniques for the teaching of second or foreign languages from the perspective of linguistics and language acquisition research.

Learning Outcomes:

After successfully completing this course students will be able to -

1. summarize and evaluate major theories of language teaching, historical trends in language teaching methodology
2. To understand and evaluate current approaches to second and foreign language instruction.

Abbreviations- L- Lecture, S- Seminar, GD- Group Discussion, T- Test, A- Assignment, P- Practical, SP- Student Participation

Course Outline:

Unit 1 Introduction (2hrs. L + 2hrs. SP + 1 hr. T: Total 5 hrs)

Issues involved in language teaching: goals of teaching, curriculum and syllabus designing, teaching methods, teaching materials and testing, and their interdependence on each other (e.g. English for specific purposes- the specific needs would decide syllabus, method/s, materials and tests); interrelationship between language acquisition/learning research- especially second language acquisition research and language teaching.

Unit 2 Second Language Acquisition (SLA) (4 hrs. L + 4 hrs. P + 2 hrs. A: Total 10 hrs)

Second language learning/acquisition research: a recent history (1950 – present); background ideas of SLA research; the main approaches: cognitive approaches vs. empirical approaches.

Unit 3 Language Teaching Methods (2 hrs. L + 6 hrs. P + 2 hrs. SP: Total 10 hrs)

A short history of teaching methods; an overview of various teaching methods in relation to different needs of language learners and goals of teaching; major teaching methods; the grammar-translation method, communicative approach, the eclectic method, direct method, reading method, audio-lingual method, total physical response, the silent way; other methods: mimicry-memorization method, the practice method, the phonetic method, the language control method, the psychological method

Unit 4 Designing curriculum & syllabus (2 hrs. L + 3 hr. P: Total 5 hrs)

Curriculum and syllabus, the role of the syllabus, product-oriented vs. process oriented syllabuses, types of syllabuses: grammatical, situational and notional-functional.

Unit 5 Teaching Material (4 hrs L + 4 hrs. P + 2 hrs. A: Total 10 hrs)

Selection and grading of teaching material, lesson-plan, programmed instructions, courses for special purposes, teaching aids, language laboratory and audio-visual aids.

Unit 6 Language Testing

(4 hrs L + 4 hrs P + 2 hrs A: Total: 10 hrs)

The purpose of language tests (achievement, proficiency, placement, diagnostic, aptitude); norm-referenced and criterion-referenced tests; reporting of results, rating scales, profiles and outcome statements; testing of language for specific purposes; design, construction and validation of language tests, test validity, test reliability; classroom language assessment and alternative assessment practices.

Unit 7 Language Teaching in India

(4 hrs L + 4 hrs P + 2 GD: Total 10 hours)

Introduction of English from the first standard in regional medium schools, method/s used for it, assessment of the programme; three-language formula and its implementation in various states; English for specific purposes; teaching of Indian languages for specific purposes (Regional Language Centers of Central Institute for Indian Language, Mysore and American Institute of Indian Studies)

Practical work: Observation of live classroom teaching in a language teaching institute, interaction with teachers on syllabus designing, teaching methods and materials, relating these observations and discussions with taught theories and approaches.

Credits: 4

Hours: 60

Course Objectives:

1. To provide an overview of the relation between language, cognition and culture through the lenses of Cognitive Linguistics and Psycholinguistics.
2. To demonstrate the use of experimental methods in Cognitive Psychology to study cognitive metaphor, psycholinguistics, discourse management, conceptual integration, spatial cognition, etc.

Learning Outcomes:

1. The student will carry out empirical studies that will substantiate the claims of Cognitive Linguistics, and develop a coherent account of the connection between language, cognition and culture.

Abbreviations- L- Lecture, S- Seminar, GD- Group Discussion, T- Test, A- Assignment, P- Practical, SP- Student Participation

Course Outline:

Unit 1 Introduction to cognition, mind, culture and language (8 hrs L + 2 hrs A: Total 10 hrs)

Defining language, cognition, thought, mind and culture; approaches to language and cognition and language and culture; cognitive turn in studying relationship between language, cognition, and culture; neurophysiology of language and cognition. Biological, psychological and cognitive foundations of language. Empirical approaches to the study of cognition, mind, culture and language.

Unit 2 Language and Cognition - Cognitive Linguistics (6 hrs L + 4 hrs P + 2 hrs S/SP : Total 12 hrs)

The principle of embodiment; Conceptualization, image schemas, frames, categorization, metaphor.

Unit 3 Language and Culture (6 hrs L + 2 hrs A + 2 hrs S/SP: Total 10 hrs)

Language and thought, linguistic relativity, linguistic determinism, neo-Whorfian approaches, social cognition.

Unit 4 Psycholinguistics (6 hrs L + 4 hrs P + 2 hrs A + 2 hrs S/SP: Total 14 hrs)

Psychology of language, Connectionism; Models and experimental studies in language acquisition, comprehension and production, bilingualism- applying psycholinguistic methods and models to understand mental representations of language. Neuroscience of language.

Unit 5 Cognitive Processes (6 hrs L + 4 hrs P + 2 hrs A + 2 hrs S/SP: Total 14 hrs)

Metaphor, Metonymy, Polysemy. Perception and linguistic coding of space, time, emotions; Simulation semantics. Cognitive approaches to grammar.

LNG 659: CONTACT LINGUISTICS

Credits: 4

Hours: 60

Course Objectives:

1. To provide the students with a broad overview of the field of Contact Linguistics and introduce them to various approaches to the study of language contact and its outcomes.
2. To introduce students to the basic methodologies used in the study of language contact.

Learning Outcomes:

On successfully completing the course

1. Students will be able to identify a contact situation and describe the outcome of contact
2. Students will be able to use the methods of contact linguistics to identify contact features in a linguistic variety
3. Students will learn to explore both language-internal and language-external motivations for language change. They will learn methods of argumentation in contact linguistics.

Abbreviations- L- Lecture, S- Seminar, GD- Group Discussion, T- Test, A- Assignment, P- Practical, SP- Student Participation

Course Outline:

Unit 1: Language Contact -Problems of definitions and classification (4hrs. L + 4 hrs. P + 2 hrs. SP: Total 10 hrs)

Internal vs. contact-induced language change; language contact: outcomes and processes; approaches to language contact: general linguistic and sociolinguistic; borrowing vs. shift (interference, substratum influence); ‘transfer’ as a neutral term; replication; classifications of language contact (Thomason, Winford, others); mixed language; fieldwork in contact situations

Unit 2 Language Maintenance Situations (2 hrs. + 6 hrs. P + 2 hrs. A: Total 10 hrs)

Lexical borrowing and structural borrowing; Haugen’s classification of lexical contact phenomena; case studies on lexical diffusion; code-switching/code-mixing; bilingual mixed languages; convergence areas

Unit 3 Language Shift (Second Language Acquisition) (2 hrs. + 6 hrs. + 2 hr. T: Total 10 hrs)

Bilingualism: definitions, degrees and types of bilingualism; Individual SLA and group SLA; New Englishes: substratum influence; language attrition and death; language endangerment

Unit 4 Creation of new languages (4 hrs. L + 4 hrs. P + 2 hr. T: Total 10 hrs)

Socio-historical origin and development of pidgins: superstrate and substrate languages; linguistic features of pidgins; socio-historical context of creation of creoles; linguistic features of creoles; the role of substrate influence vs. universals in development of creoles

Unit 5 Language Contact: factors and constraints (4 hrs. L + 4 hrs. P + 2 hrs. SP: Total 10 hrs)

Contact-based explanations in Linguistics vis-à-vis language internal explanations; Constraints on language change

Unit 6 Contact and Linguistics (4 hrs. L + 2 hrs. P + 4 hrs. A: Total 10 hours)

Genetic classification and language contact; contact, convergence and typology (microareas and macro areas); contact and grammaticalisation; contact and prehistory.

Practical work: Students collect a small sample of data from one or more languages in contact; they present a linguistic analysis of the data within the framework of Contact Linguistics.

Credits: 4

Hours: 60

Course Objectives:

1. To introduce the basic concepts of Historical Linguistics
2. To introduce the basic concepts of internal and comparative reconstruction
3. To introduce the basic concepts of genetic classification, language families, and writing systems

Learning Outcomes:

After successfully completing this course students will be able to

1. apply the techniques of reconstruction to language samples
2. explore the social and linguistic motivations for language change

Abbreviations- L- Lecture, S- Seminar, GD- Group Discussion, T- Test, A- Assignment, P- Practical, SP- Student Participation

Course Outline:

Unit 1 Introduction

(4 hrs. L + 2 hrs. A: Total 6 hrs)

Synchronic and diachronic approaches to language- inter- relationship between diachronic and synchronic data; writing systems, use of written records for historical studies; historical study of languages and genetic classification of languages, notions of language family, criteria for identifying family relationships among languages or dialects; other two types of language classification: areal and typological.

Unit 2 Sound Change

(4 hrs. L + 4 hrs. P: Total 8 hrs)

Neo-grammarian theory of gradualness, exceptionlessness and regularity of sound change, conditioned sound change (assimilation, dissimilation, coalescence; metathesis; deletion, epenthesis) vs. unconditioned change (sound shifts); phonetic and phonemic changes- split and merger; transformational generative approach to sound change (sound change and phonological rule, rule addition, etc); cause and effect, genesis and spread of sound change.

Unit 3 Analogy

(1 hr. L + 2 hrs. P + 1 hr. A: Total 4 hrs)

Analogy; its relationship to sound change, effects of analogy on language structure, types of analogy- systematic (leveling, four-part analogy, analogical change and creation) and non-systematic analogical change (blending, folk etymology etc.)

Unit 4 Morphosyntactic changes

(4 hrs. L + 4 hrs. P + 2 hrs. SP: Total 10 hrs)

Syntactic change: Mechanisms, causes and effects (discussing word order change to exemplify syntactic change); Grammaticalization: lexical vs. grammatical categories, semantic bleaching and pragmatic strengthening, unidirectionality of grammaticalization, mechanisms: analogy and reanalysis; grammaticalization, degrammaticalization and lexicalization

Unit 5 Semantic Change

(1 hr. L + 2 hrs. P + 1 hr. T: Total 4 hrs)

Semantic change: Basis and mechanism (metaphor, taboo etc), Effects (widening, narrowing etc)

Unit 6 Comparative Method and Linguistic Reconstruction (4 hrs. L + 6 hrs. P: Total 10 hrs)

Linguistic reconstruction and sub-grouping: internal reconstruction and comparative method, their scope and limitations; reconstructing the proto-stages of language; innovation and retention; linguistic sub-grouping; family tree and the wave model; relative chronology of different changes.

Unit 7 Dialectology (4 hr. L + 4 hrs. P + 2 hrs. SP: Total 10 hrs)

Dialect Geography, dialect, idiolect; isogloss, focal area, transition area, relic area; method of preparing dialect atlas; preparation of questionnaire, selection of informants and localities, elicitation of data, collection and organization of data, preparing isogloss maps, deciding dialect and sub-dialect areas, correlating political and cultural history with regional and social dialects
